

From 1831 until 1986 the Canadian government funded one-hundred-and-thirty residential schools which abused, isolated and even conducted medical experiments on aboriginal children...

Well it looks like our government is up to it again. This time on kids of all races, colours and creeds...

Find out why masks, social distancing and other “new normal” experiments are hurting our children and threatening everybody’s future (while doing little or nothing to stop COVID-19) at:
